Richfield Springs Superintendent Search to Include Community Information Session, Community Survey

Richfield Springs Central School District has scheduled a community information session and will open a community survey to gather input for the district’s search for the next superintendent of schools.

After Richfield Springs Central School District Superintendent Thomas Piatti announced he will be retiring at the end of the 2025-26 school year, the district recently launched a search for his replacement. Herkimer-Fulton-Hamilton-Otsego BOCES District Superintendent D.J. Shepardson is leading the superintendent search on behalf of the Richfield Springs Board of Education.

Shepardson will host the community information session at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 24, in the Richfield Springs school cafeteria at 93 W. Main St. in Richfield Springs. The event will include discussion of the search process, timeline and community survey.

The community survey will be open from Feb. 17-24 and will be posted at www.herkimer-boces.org and www.richfieldcsd.org.

Richfield Springs is accepting superintendent applications through Feb. 17, and the screening and selection of candidates will take place in February and March. Board of Education interviews with candidates will take place in March and April, before the board decides on a hiring. The next superintendent is expected to begin employment on July 1. 🗞

♥ A VALENTINE GREETING ♥

Submitted by Village of Richfield Springs Historian Harriett Geywits

Whether you like to make your own or if you prefer the ‘store-bought’ variety, almost everyone is a fan of Valentine cards. How did this become the second largest card-giving holiday of the year? It all began with the story of the patron saint (or saints) named Valentine and the mystery involved that seemed to grow from there.

There seems to be at least three different saints named Valentine, all of whom were martyred. One legend says that Valentine was a priest who served during the third century in Rome. When Emperor Claudius II decided that single men made better soldiers than those with wives and families, he outlawed marriage for young men. Valentine, realizing the injustice of this decree, defied Claudius and continued to marry couples in secret. When his actions were discovered, Claudius ordered his execution.

Others insist that St. Valentine of Interamna (Terni, Italy), a bishop, is the namesake of the holiday. He was also beheaded by Claudius II for refusing to renounce his faith and continuing to convert new followers.

Still others think that Valentine might have been killed for attempting to help Christians escape harsh Roman prisons where they were often beaten and tortured. An imprisoned Valentine, according to legend, sent the first ‘valentine’ greeting himself, after he fell in love with a young girl, possibly his jailor’s daughter who visited him during his confinement. He supposedly wrote her a letter signed ‘From your Valentine’. Valentine greetings were popular in the Middle Ages, mostly in the form of poems or letters.

Although the stories are varied and unproven, they all seem to deal with a St. Valentine, executed on February 14th, who was a sympathetic, heroic and romantic figure who became one of the most popular saints in England and France.

The cherub Cupid, who launched his arrows of love at unsuspecting people, has roots in Greek mythology as the Greek god of love, Eros. He was a handsome immortal who played with the emotions of gods and men, using golden arrows to create love and leaden ones to bring the opposite result.

In the 1700s, cards were handmade and usually delivered secretly by slipping one under someone’s door. Printed verse guides, full of suggestions on how to win over your sweetheart could be bought to help those lovers in need. Some guides were written especially for women such as ‘The Lady’s Own Valentine Writer’ or for the gentlemen, ‘The Young Man’s Valentines for Those Poetically Challenged’. The cards were printed, engraved or made from woodcuts and colored by hand. They had traditional symbols of love - flowers, hearts, cupids, birds, etc. Ones that could be given to others such as friends, family members and children were beginning to be more popular.

In the middle of the 18th century, it was common for friends and lovers of all social classes to exchange small tokens of affection or handwritten notes. By 1800, printed cards began to replace written letters due to improvements in technology. The Valentine’s Day card gained popularity in Britain during the Victorian era when cheaper postage rates contributed to an increase in sending greetings. European paper manufacturers discovered that they could produce ornate cut paper. This was then used to create layers and windows that revealed beautiful, printed images for the Valentine cards.

Esther Howland, whose father owned the largest stationery store in Worcester, Massachusetts, is called the ‘Mother of the American Valentine’ and is credited with creating the first mass market for printed valentines in the United States. In 1849, Esther began selling the first mass-produced valentines in America, her designs being inspired by one sent to her from England, and were assembled in her home by a group of local ladies that she hired. Her cards were very different from other cards already on the market at the time, featuring lacey cut-outs and intricate illustrations. Her operation later became known as the New England Valentine Company, remaining a home-based operation until the mid-1870s when production was moved to a factory. In 1881, the business was purchased by George Whitney who owned a competing company. He purchased his own printing presses and cheaper paper to reduce costs.

About this time the cards made available also included designs that were humorous, political, insulting or even racist. These were called ‘vinegar cards’. Because most valentines were delivered anonymously during this period, the new the type of valentine was not made to flatter but rather to insult and air grievances.

Valentines vary now, as then, in price and quality, ranging from cheaper paper cutouts to expensive lithographs on embossed paper. Although the sale of cards is much less with the advent of e-cards, St. Valentine should be glad that his name is associated with promoting love and caring.

A quote from Fred Rogers (1928-2003 famous for his children’s show) is a good reminder for all on this Valentine’s Day: “Deep within us - no matter who we are - there lives a feeling of wanting to be lovable, of wanting to be the kind of person that others like to be with. And the greatest thing we an do is to let people know that they are loved and capable of loving.”

The Hartwick American Legion Auxiliary, Post 1567 will host a Spaghetti Dinner Benefit for Megan Dennis who has been diagnosed with Chiari I Malformation—a condition in which the brain lacks adequate space within the skull, placing pressure on the brain and spinal cord.

Chiari is frequently undiagnosed or misdiagnosed, and while this diagnosis has provided long-awaited answers, it comes with ongoing neurological symptoms that create daily challenges. Megan and her loved ones are now facing unforeseen financial burdens, including medical expenses, in-home support, and other related costs associated with her care.

The Spaghetti Dinner will be at the Hartwick American Legion on Thursday, February 26th serving begins at 5:00 pm.

We are accepting Spaghetti Dinner contributions that will support the benefit dinner and those interested can contact the Legion directly at 607-293-7511. Additionally, the family will accept monetary donations, which can be sent directly to the family, addressed to Deb Dennis at 2986 County Highway 11, Hartwick, NY 13348.
Deb can also be reached at 607-287-2089.

LOOKING FOR AN AFFORDABLE USED CAR?

SICK OF BUYING rusty junk off of an individual or online and then spending more than you paid for it trying to get it functional or to pass inspection? At Central Auto Sales I take pride in buying quality cars that are still in excellent condition that can supply you with many miles of service in the future. I typically buy my cars from states south of NY to avoid the rust associated with local cars. No pressure, no fancy hype, just quality cars at fair prices! Central Auto Sales LLC, 429 Manley Road, Norwich. www.centralautosalesllc.com 607-336-6371.
